

"SEE Electrical" named Product of the Year by a leading Polish magazine.

Toulouse, April 24th, 2007 – The IGE+XAO Group announces that SEE Electrical, one of its leading software application dedicated to the manufacturing market, has been designated as "Product of the Year" by the Polish magazine "Inżyniering i Utrzymanie Ruchu".

"SEE Electrical" targets small and medium-sized companies. It has become very popular worldwide, thanks to the value of its functionalities, its ease-of-use and evolution capabilities. Its three levels (Basic, Standard and Advanced) allow the software application to evolve in line with customers requirements in terms of performance and investment flexibility.

This award was decided by the readers themselves, who see the package, as the "best software product dedicated to electrical engineering."

A ceremony was held at the Business Centre Club (BCC) in Warsaw on February 22nd, 2007.

"The Polish market recognition of our package as the reference in Electrical Computer-Aided Design makes us very proud. This demonstrates the Group's capability to offer powerful yet easy-to-use software products" declared Alain Di Crescenzo, IGE+XAO Group Chairman and CEO.
